

This is absolutely ridiculous! XM is providing an excellent service to its PAYING customers.... this is not a free service therefore is not in competition with FM and AM stations. The consumer has the choice to pay for this excellent service and use the services XM provides, such as the local traffic and weather. Since XM has introduced this service, i can plan my commute and get to work sooner, rather than waiting for sometimes 20 - 30 mins for a local radio station to cover the traffic and in most cases no way near as thorough as XM. XM spends as much time as needed to cover the traffic as the local radio station only has a limited amount of time and speeds through the report. Again, i can not stress enough that this is not a free service. The consumer pays for this service therefore it is not in competition with any local radio. XM has done nothing wrong and is just supplying its customers with quality service for a small FEE.
